Summary: This report focuses on the Home Credit Default Risk competition and use Logistic Regression to solve this problem. The whole process including the data processing, feature selection and the model fitting. A discussion about the further improvement is also given.

Strength:
This report has detailed discussion of the data processing part, which is very important in dealing with this kind of competition.
The result and analysis is relatively sufficient.

Weakness:
This report utilizes Logistic Regression but some other methods such as XGBoost can be added to solve the problem.

Clarity and Quality:5

Technical Quality:5

Overall: 5

Confidence:3